

Summer Reading: Students Entering 4th Grade

Summer Reading Assignment for 2009-2010 School Year

You need to choose one book from the reading list for the grade you are getting ready to enter. You may, of course, read more than one on the list, but you will need to complete the following assignment on one of the books. The assignment will be turned in to your next year's English teacher during the first or second week of school (to be determined by individual teachers). Students may also choose a book that is not on the reading list as long as it is approved by their parent / guardian, is found by searching the website arbookfind.com, is 150 pages long for students grades 4-5, or is two hundred pages long students grades 6-12.

Reading Response Journal

Writing in response to literature can be a great way for students to organize their thoughts, explore what they think, and even to generate ideas. Writing in journals allows students to capture their ideas and to better understand and relate to work of fiction. For your chosen book, you will be completing reading response journal. Use one page per item or question. Answer the following items/questions about your book:

- Summarize what you just read.
- Describe the setting's time and place. Draw it.
- Describe your least favorite character and explain why. Describe your most favorite character and explain why.
- Think of a problem that a character had to face. Write the problem and how the character solved it or is working to solve it. If you were that character, what would you do differently?
- Does the title fit the story? Why or why not?
- Do you like what you're reading? Why or why not?
- List five major events in order from which happened first to last.
- Why did you choose this to read? Give at least 3 reasons.
- Who is the author? What do you know about the author? What do you imagine the author must be like?
- What are some things you do when you don't understand what you're reading?

- Feel free to decorate your pages and to make your journal interesting.
- Then, create a cover for your journal. It needs to include the title of the book, the author's name, your name, and a picture of a scene from the book (you may either draw it or make a collage using magazine pictures).

Directions: You need to choose one of the following books to read over the summer, but, of course, you may read more! You will complete an assignment over the book that you have selected. This assignment will be turned in during the first week of the school year.

Poppy's Return – Avi

In this ongoing Dimwood Forest adventure Poppy travels to her childhood home to save the other mice there from destruction by a bulldozer.

Double Fudge – Judy Blume

His younger brother's obsession with money and the discovery of the long-lost cousins, Flora and Fauna, provide many embarrassing moments for twelve-year old Peter.

Ramona's World – Beverly Cleary

Enjoy the adventures of nine-year-old Ramona as she experiences the ups and downs of fourth grade, tries to be a good role model for her new baby sister, Roberta, and delights in her new best friend, Daisy.

The Legend of Spud Murphy – Eoin Colfer

When their mother starts dropping them off at the library several afternoons a week, nine-year-old William and his brother dread boredom and the overbearing town librarian, but they are surprised at how things turn out.

Stone Fox – John R. Gardiner

Willie hopes to win the purse in a dog sled race in order to pay the back taxes on his grandfather's farm.

It Came from Beneath the Bed! – James Howe

With help from his Uncle Harold, Howie, a wire-haired dachshund, writes a story in which he saves the world from a science experiment gone awry.

Sideways Stories from Wayside School – Louis Sachar

There'd been a terrible mistake. Wayside School was supposed to be built with 30 classrooms all next to each other in a row. Instead, they built the classrooms one on top of the other... 30 stories tall! (The builder said he was very sorry.) That may be why all kinds of funny things happen at Wayside School – especially on the 30th floor. You'll meet Mrs. Gorf, the meanest teacher of all; terrible Todd, who always gets sent home early; and John, who can only read upside down – along with all the other kids in the crazy mixed-up school that came out sideways. But you'll never guess the truth about Sammy, the new kid ... or what's in store for Wayside School on Halloween!

The Castle in the Attic – Elizabeth Winthrop

A miniature castle comes to life for ten-year-old William when he shrinks to fit into its adventures.
